GENERAL INFORMATION

Dr. Thomas F. Kane, The New President, assumed office July 1, 1916. He believes that the highly efficient small college has a fine service to perform in modern education. Under his administration great improvements are being made.

Advantages at Olivet. The quality of instruction is of university standard, the work done at Olivet being accepted at par by the leading colleges and universities of the country. The faculty has for years been recognized as exceptional. Because of the relatively small classes, it is possible to give individual attention to each student. The intimate acquaintances that are possible for each student with the different members of the faculty and with other students create a most delightful social atmosphere. Expenses at Olivet are so moderate that a student may get through the year on from $300 to $350, which is much less than the expense at most other colleges.

Law, Medicine and Engineering. By a recent arrangement with the University of Michigan and Northwestern University students may take the first three years of their college work at Olivet and will receive, at the end of their first year of professional study at the university, the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Olivet College. The engineering course may be completed in one, the law course in two and the medical course in three additional years.

The Courses in Business Management at Olivet are arousing keen interest among young men seeking the kind of training that will prepare them for development into executive positions in business. The methods at Olivet are unique and practical. Some of the leading business men of Michigan and Chicago cooperate in these courses.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Art, Including Public School Drawing. The work of this department is of a high order, the training being thoro and efficient. Many who have received their art instruction at Olivet have acquired more than a local reputation.

The School of Music. The department of Music has been reorganized into a separate school and is thus able to adjust itself more readily to the needs of music students. Courses are given leading to a Teacher's Certificate in Music, and to the degrees of Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Arts.

The Department of Religion. This department offers courses that are designed to give a broad foundation for such fields of usefulness as the ministry, missions, social settlement work, christian association work and religious education.

Teachers. Properly qualified graduates of Olivet can be virtually certain of securing good positions in Michigan schools. The demand for Olivet graduates as teachers constantly exceeds the supply.
